COMING TO THE CHAPEL OF SAINT-MACLOU IS ALSO TAKEN A COUNTRY WALK IN THE HEART OF THE PAYS D'AUGE

ONCE UPON A TIME...

... A small Romanesque chapel surrounded by apple trees in the middle of a greenery land.

Perched at the top of a hill, for a thousand years, it has proudly pointed the rooster of its bell tower towards the sky.

Since 2005, with the creation of the Association les Amis de la Chapelle de Saint-Maclou, at the initiative of Patrick Truffaut and the faithful Members who joined him, it has seen its daily life improve, its facades regain their shine of yesteryear, its roof which no longer leaves room for infiltration, its stone cladding preserved from bad weather.

The Chapel of Saint-Maclou has thus regained confidence and no longer sees the ruins invading its skeleton as before 2005.

Saint-Maclou now believes in its future, a destiny assured by volunteers who love the heritage of our region, faithful people who wish to preserve this place of meeting, prayer and culture.

So yes, the task remains large, because we still need to pursue the conservation work that has been carried out, particularly concerning the restoration of the statuary, the interior, the nave and the choir, the canvases of the three altars, walls, ceiling, woodwork and furniture...

Our fight against time continues, it needs the support and investment of everyone, of those who believe in the importance of preserving a history, a place, a monument, a collective heritage.

This is the underlying reason for the actions carried out by our Association: to safeguard, restore, maintain and bring life to a highly symbolic place, steeped in history and witness to our past.

Welcome to the Chapelle de Saint-Maclou, we hope that it will interest you, and that it will be convincing enough to encourage you to come and give it your support, your membership.

THE CHAPEL OF SAINT-MACLOU

Proud to belong to the heritage of small churches of the Pays d'Auge and being a listed monument at the Heritage Foundation, this small chapel is also yours!

Whatever your opinions, your beliefs, your origins, you are welcome in this place of healing which cannot leave anyone in indifference.

Lovers of old stones and thousand-year-old buildings, of stories from our countryside, visitors for a day, lifelong devotees, artists looking for a place of expression, the chapel of Saint-Maclou aims to bring people together, synonymous with sharing, communion and culture, unifying links...

So, whoever you are, you can join our association Les Amis de la Chapelle de Saint-Maclou.

We will be happy to welcome you there!
