THE NOVEMBER EDITORIAL

The Virtuous Pumpkin

The tomato, in the garden, envied the pumpkin.
She envied the splendor of its plump sides.
She implored the sky, the wind, the damp rain,
To grant her such sublime curves.
The sun may have caressed the tomato,
And the rain may have streamed down its plump cheeks.
Our nightshade, in its quest for glory,
Exhausted itself trying to enhance its rounded shape.
So, it grew breathless in this vain pursuit.
It forced itself, persisted, and in the end, grew thin !
The pumpkin grew fat, joyful in its belly.
Its neighbor raged, then, bitter, became sour!
Let us be happy with our lot, whatever may come.
Jealousy and envy are bad ways.
Let us not exhaust ourselves in vain competition.
The pumpkin, in the garden, teaches us all a lesson !

LET'S CELEBRATE ALL SAINTS' DAY AT THE CHAPEL OF SAINT-MACLOU

Illustrations Laure TH. Chantal

Sunday, November 1st, from 2:30 pm to 6:00 pm, open house at the Saint-Maclou chapel

On All Saints' Day, as you come to the grave of a loved one to lay flowers, you will find the doors of your chapel open…

On this special day for us all, it seemed important to us to allow you access, for a moment of reflection!

Monday, November 2nd at 4:00 pm mass for the dead at the chapel of Saint-Maclou

As every year, on November 2nd, all our thoughts will be with those who, sadly, have left us.

This very special day is a time for reflection, for memories, for profound thoughts that will be recalled during this traditional service, which will likely be celebrated by Father Lucien.

Throughout the year, many of you have visited our chapel, and we have been delighted to welcome you.

We can never thank you enough for your continued devotion to this place that is so dear to us. We look forward to seeing you again.

GOODBYE MR. PIERSON

On Wednesday, October 28, at 1:20 p.m., Jean-Pierre passed away.
Since the founding of our association in 2005, Jean-Pierre ,working alongside Patrick Truffaut, served as one of its pillars.
His passing fills us with profound sadness ; he dedicated himself tirelessly to the well-being of our chapel, and through his involvement in the initial renovation projects, he played a key role in its reopening to the public.
Jean-Pierre, we will miss your presence and your kindness, but the memory of you will help us continue your work; you will remain ever-present in our thoughts.
To bid a final farewell to Jean-Pierre, we will gather on Tuesday, November 3, at 2:30 p.m. at the Chapel of Saint-Maclou.

ONCE AGAIN, IN 2026, YOU WERE GENEROUS!

Dear members, dear friends,
In October, we registered several new memberships, further bolstering the numbers we've seen since March. It goes without saying that this year again, you responded in large numbers and with great generosity.
Your continued support, year after year, reinforces our commitment to preserving a heritage to which we are deeply attached.$
This heritage is that of our countryside, a testament to the history of our region.
With you and thanks to you, we are dedicated to preserving it, keeping it alive, and passing it on.
Thank you
